PUBLIC COMMENT (Governmental Issues, 5 Minute Limit)

Cindy Burnham—71 Wallace Street—asked if it was true that Red Bank was looking to dissolve the Animal Control Department, which was a shared service neighboring towns, and to contract with the ASPCA.

Mayor Menna said they were looking into it.

Ms. Burnham asked why that was.

Mayor Menna said they were looking into the financial aspects of the service.

Ms. Burnham said she had heard that the ASPCA had been a low bidder or were giving a year for free. She said she did not think that was good for Red Bank. She said the Borough also had a dog feces problem particularly in regard to large developments. She reviewed her perception of the issues. She said the Animal Control Officer had gone above and beyond and were passionate. She said he had personally enforced making sure people cleaned up after their dogs. She questioned the service that would be received from the ASPCA.

Mayor Menna thanked her for her comments. He said during his years on the Council, he did not recall a report where the Animal Control Officer had written summonses for dog feces in public areas. He said he believed those summonses had been written by someone who had observed it or by a Police Officer.

Ms. Burnham claimed she had personally seen him issue tickets.

No one else appearing, Councilman Zipprich made a motion to close the Public Comment period, Councilwoman Triggiano seconded.
